On January 25th and 26th 2015, 21 teams from all over the world – composed of a pastry chef, a chocolate specialist, and an ice-cream maker – will pit their skills against one another at the heart of an 8000 sqm gastronomic arena, live in front of 2,500 fans. They will need to display a good dose of audacity, expert technical skills, as well as unrivalled creativity, and innovation to win the event.

This year, Iginio Massari – Italian member of the Relais Desserts network - will be the President of Honour of the contest. Quentin Bailly, French winner of the Coupe du Monde de la Pâtisserie 2013 is appointed President of the International jury.

The countries' schedule per day was determined by drawing lots, supervised by an official bailiff:
